THEY WILL ALL GO HOME.

The Closing Hours and Incidents Connected Therewith--All's Well.

THE PAGES OF THE SENATE

Present Lieut.-Governor Doughton With a Nice Token--Evidences of Esteem All Around--But the Spleen of Disgraced Democrats Is Still In Evidence.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13TH—LAST DAY.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock a. m., by Lieutenant-Governor R. A. Doughton.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Lawrence of the House of Representatives.

The expiring hours of the General Assembly were spent by the presiding officers of the two branches signing acts ready for ratification.

A matter of much interest, and which elected considerable discussion, was the failure to elect directors of the penitentiary and a State librarian.

The tellers' report on vote for State librarian was that in the House of Representatives, Sanford received 48 votes and none were cast against him. In the Senate he received 25 votes and 1 vote was cast against him. This made 74 votes only cast for and against the election. It is necessary, to elect any one by the General Assembly by a joint majority of the two houses to-wit: 87 votes.

In the vote on penitentiary directors there were 29 votes cast in the Senate and in the House 50 votes, making 78; necessary for an election 87.

It was declared upon the reports of the tellers that there was no election.

Rice, (Republican,) moved that the Senate declare Stanford elected anyway.

The President stated that the tellers' report stated otherwise, and that the journal would show to the contrary also.

Rice replied, "that makes no difference," and finding that there was no support for his motion, he abandoned the matter.

PROTESTS.

Paddison sent up and asked to have spread upon the journal his protest against the ratification of an act for the relief of ex-Sheriff J. G. Kenan, of Duplin county. It was so ordered.

Parsons entered his protest against the passage of the divorce bill, which was ordered spread upon the journal.

A FEW MINOR BILLS

were considered and passed.

The Senators lounged about the lobbies and in the aisles conversing upon different subjects, only to be interrupted by an occasional rap of the gavel, calling attention to a message from the House of Representatives transmitting a stray bill which that body had just passed, and requesting concurrence, which was immediately disposed of.

A resolution to pay extra money to five assistant enrolling clerks was voted down.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Adams requested the President to vacate the chair for a few moments and call some Senator to preside.

The Lieutenant Governor called the Hon. Senator from Cumberland to the chair, when

Mr. Adams said:

Lientenant-Governor Doughton and Senators:

A few days ago the members of this Senate presented to you, as our presiding officer, a testimonial of high appreciation of the manner in which you have graced the chair, and the efficient and impartial manner in which you have presided over the deliberations of this body in the dispatch of its business.

Now sir, I am delegated the pleasant duty to tender you another testimonial as a mark of the esteem, respect and love of the little pages of this body. For them, it is my delight to present to you this handsome gold watch charm, and, for them, to say that it is their earnest wishes that the circle of your life, your usefulness and happiness may always grow larger. This little token carries with it their profound respect, their best wishes, their esteem, affection and love.

The Lieutenant Governor was deeply touched, and in reply said:

Surely, I am among my friends, both large and small. I feel most sensibly this transaction. It fills my whole being with joy. From my heart, I thank these little page boys for what they have seen fit to do. May each one of them grow up and become faithful and efficient men of this State. Many boys seek the place of page in this body and in the House of Representatives. It is right and proper that the youth should thus be brought in contact with the representative men of the State in her legislative halls. It brings them in touch with public affairs, and is a great educator to them to become good and useful citizens.

I see this present is gold—but I take it that these little fellows are not gold bugs—but that they are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver in the ratio of 16 to 1.

I shall most highly appreciate this present, more so because of the source from whence it came, and the youthful impulses which give it, and may all the richest blessings of life be abundantly showered around and about these honest, efficient, patriotic little page boys, and may each one of them grow up an ornament to the great manhood of this great State of North Carolina.

Afternoon Session.

At 4:30 p. m. about a dozen Senators were seated about the chamber, when an enrolling clerk entered with an armful of enrolled bills. The gavel sounded, and the President gave notice of the ratification of a number of bills and they became law.

A half hour later another batch of bills came down from the enrolling department, were ratified, and a recess was taken till 8 p. m.

Night Session.

The lights were lighted for the last time in the Senate chamber for the session of 1895, and the expiring legislature passed through the agonizing tortures of its final dissolution.

Mewborne said that a day or two ago, Senator Farthing, who had been one of the hardest workers of this body, had drawn all his pay, and this, together with some valuable papers which were in his pocket book, had been lost; that many Senators had participated in partially renumerating him for his loss, for which he wished to return his lasting thanks.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Senate be, and they are hereby tendered to the President of the Senate for the distinguished ability and impartial and courteous bearing which he has manifested during the deliberations of the Senate, and that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the journal.

The resolution was put upon its passage, Senator Starbuck putting the question, and it was unanimously adopted.

The President ordered a roll call, that the names of those Senators who were present at the close of the session might be spread upon the journal, and the following responded to their names:

A PROTEST.

Senator Carver entered his solemn protest against the list of magistrates appointed by this General Assembly for Cumberland county, because changes had been made by some one unknown to him in the names agreed upon and submitted by himself and the representatives. The protest was ordered spread upon the journal.

Mewborne, during a lull, addressed the chair and said:

Mr. President:

The hour has well nigh come when we shall seperate and go to our homes. All of us are anxious to reach those homes and mingle with those we love. I, myself, am exceedingly anxious to be where I can smell the apple blossom and see the blue birds and join my family; but I have determined to stay and do all that fell to my lot to perform. To-night I have been called to perform a pleasant duty. Our Secretary is a man I have long known as a good citizen and a splendid business man who, wherever you may put him, will always do his whole duty as he has performed the very arduous duties here. Now, in behalf of the clerks and employees of this Senate, I present Mr. H. E. King this watch, and asked that it be accepted with the high appreciation of his worth and efficiency, and the love, effection and esteem of his associate clerks.

Mr. King accepted the watch in a pleasant little speech, relating the ups and downs of a Senate clerk's duties, and closed with his heartfelt thanks to the donors.

A resolution was received from the House of Representatives that the General Assembly of North Carolina would adjourn without day at the hour of 10:30 o'clock p. m.

The Senate concurred in the resolution and when the hands of the Senate clock indicated 10:30 p. m., the gavel of the President rapped and he said: Senators, under the joint resolution of the two bodies, this General Assembly stands adjourned without day.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

Among the many pleasant circumstances attending the close of the General Assembly was the presentation of an elegant gold headed cane to Principal Doorkeeper by his assistants and the employees in his department.

The enrolling clerk of the Senate was also the recipient of a present in the shape of a gold headed cane as a memento of kind feeling and high esteem of his assistants and other friends.

HOUSE.

House met at 9:30; prayer by Rev. Dr. Branson.

The reading of the journal was commenced. Mr Ray moved to suspend the reading and called for the ayes and noes on his motion. The chair said there was not a sufficient number up Mr. Ray quoted from the News and Observer in regard to the last vote at the night session, and asked that the journal of last night so far as it related to the last votes in the House be read. He intimated that there was something wrong about the clerk's desk.

The chair stated that the clerk did not have time to write up his journal in full last night, and that he would give him a little time. There being a pause of some length, Mr. Ray made an intimation that there was something wrong going on between the chair and the clerk.

SHARP LANGUAGE BETWEEN SPEAKER WALSER AND MR. RAY.

The Speaker requested Mr. Ewart to take the chair. He then came down on the floor and defended himself against the insinuations of the gentleman from Macon. He said the charge that had been made by the gentleman from Macon was unworthy of any member of the House. The gentleman from Macon knows, and every member of this House knows that I was doing all I could to expedite the business of this body, and that I have been doing my duty with fairness to all parties. The gentleman makes insinuations here that he dare not make outside of this house. He insinuates, and a paper in this town charges that I am using my position to further legislation in which my party is interested, by taking undue advantages and denying to members their privileges on this floor. The gentlemen all know the charge or the insinuation is untrue and I denounce it as untrue.

Mr. Ray asked the gentleman from Henderson to retain the chair that he (Ray) might be on terms of equality with the gentleman from Davidson. As far as my acting in a way toward the gentleman, as indecent and unbecoming a gentleman, I denounce the charge as false, and the man who makes it is an absolutely unqualified falsifier. If an attack has been made upon me, because I said there was something wrong going on around the chair, I will say that I did not intend to reflect on the chair, and I ask him to divest himself of his authority as Speaker and then make the hard, unmanly thrust to say I have not acted with the conduct of a decent man. I deny making any charge upon the gentleman's integrity when I said there was something wrong going on around the Speaker's chair.

The Speaker accepted the disclaimer of the gentleman from Macon, and Mr. Ray retracted what he had said that was offensive, and the Speaker returned to his desk and the business of the house went on.

The vote to suspend the reading was 59 to 3. The journal was approved.

Senate resolution in favor of W. W. Davies, assistant enrolling clerk, whose name by oversight was not put on the roll of clerks, passed second and third readings.

Resolution to expunge from the journal of 1888 the record in regard to the expulsion of Hon. Josiah Turner, was called up and tabled.

Mr. Peebles introduced a bill for the relief of Jno. A. Snow, by giving him a second-class pension. The bill he stated was a substitute for a bill lost between the House and the Senate. The bill passed its second and third readings.

Resolution to pay J. W. Brown, enrolling clerk, $100 for extra work, was introduced by Mr. Robinson. Phillips moved to amend by adding the name of E. P. Hauser. Young, by adding $5 each for the laborers. Amendments and bill were all tabled.

Senate bill, to repeal sections 6, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, laws of 1893, in regard to the town of Monroe, was tabled. Bill to create a new township in Forsythe; to establish stock law fence between Chatham and Alamance, amendment of Senate concurred in; to establish line between Alamance and Chatham called up from the table and passed second and third reading. The Senate amendments to the divorce bill were concurred in.

ELECTION OF STATE LIBRARIAN.

Mr. Ewart placed in nomination Mr. E. D. Stanford, of Yadkin county, the first assistant clerk of the House. Messrs McCall and Hunter acted as teliers on the part of the House, and the roll call developed 48 votes for Stanford.

Mr. Peebles raised the point of order that there was no quorum developed by the last roll call. We could only adjourn for want of a quorum, or have the House polled to see if a quorum is present. He moved to adjourn till 2 o'clock. The chair ruled that the roll call was not a roll call for business but merely an election. This provoked several inquiries and questions about a quorum, which were brought to an end by "message from the Senate" and the Speaker proceeded to sign the enrolled bills which were brought in by the messenger.

NEW OFFICERS VOTED FOR.

Mr. Hileman from the committee to nominate directors for the penitentiary made the following nominations:

DIRECTORS OF THE PENITENTIARY.

1st district, T. E. McCaskey; 2nd, J. B. T. Hoover; 3rd, Mayer Hahn; 4th, J. E. Bryan; 5th, J. A. Cheek; 6th, H. C. Dockery, 7th, H. B. Parks, 8th, Ed. P. Wakefield, 9th, R. L. Herbert. Four Republicans and five Populists.

The roll was called and 50 votes were cast in the House for, and 2 against the nominees, a quorum not voting.

SHELL FISH COMMISSION FRAUDS.

The joint special committee, appointed to investigate the charges of fraud in the shell fish commission and matters pertaining thereto, reported though Mr. Ewart that they had not found time to enter into a full investigation, and recommended the appointment of a sub-committee to act during the recess of the General Assembly, and report to the State treasurer whatever they may find due the State.

CANING MR. LUSK.

Mr. Winborne, Democrat, rose to a question of privilege.

He had been deputed by the judiciary committee, of which Mr. Lusk was chairman, to present to him a gold headed cane as a token of the regard in which Mr. Lusk was held by that committee for his faithfulness, punctuality, fairness as a presiding officer and his arduous duties which he had so faithfully performed. Mr. Winborne paid a high compliment to Mr Lusk, and stated that as Mr. Lusk was sick and confined to his room at the hotel, he would present the cane to Mr. French for him.

Mr. French made a graceful response as he accepted the cane in Mr. Lusk's behalf.

TRIED TO PUT THEM ON RECORD.

Mr. Peebles called up the resolution introduced by him in the early part of the session, requesting our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use their influence to secure the passage of a bill for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and for the repeal of the tax on State banks of issue. Mr Hileman saw the point, and moved to substitute the money plank of the Populist platform, which he sent forward.

Mr. French said that while the Populists and Republicans were cooperating together on State issues, there were differences among them on matters of national politics. He did not know himself where he would stand on national questions two years hence. He moved to indefinitely postpone both the resolution and the substitute. The motion was carried.

The bill to print captions of all the laws passed by this legislature was then taken up and passed its several readings.

THE ITALIAN MASSACRE.

International Complications Probable--Protest of the Italian Legation.

MASKED MEN AT A JAIL.

Several Shots Fired at Prisoners--Guards Find Guns in Their Faces--Two Men Killed--One Dying In Great Agony--Three Dead Bodies Found.

WALSENBURG, Col., March 13.—The United States may have an international complication on its hands as the result of the violence here last night, in which five Italians, who are believed to be unnaturalized, were killed. After the attack on the wagon party early last evening, described in the Associated Press despatches last night, all was comparatively quiet, until soon after night. About then seven or eight men wearing masks, knocked at the door of the jail where Lorenzo Danino, who was charged by the other Italians with having struck the blows that killed Hixson on Sunday, and the Italian wounded in the wagon attack were confined. In answer to a question the men said O'Malley the sheriff, wanted to enter. As soon as the door was opened, the guard found guns in their faces. Part of the masked men went to the cell where the two Italians were confined and fired eight or ten shots. Each prisoner received four or five bullets. One died instantly, but the other lived a short time in great agony. No trace has yet been found of the three Italians who were taken from the wagon, though they were killed, beyond a doubt. The list of dead and missing is: Joseph Welsby, driver of the wagon; Lorenzo Danino, Pete Jacobiny, Antonio Gobatto, Stanzile Vittano, Francisco Raccetto.

The other five suspects had been released from custody before the mob arose. Some fears were entertained at Rouse last night that the Italians, who outnumbered the Americans and other nationalities, might rise up and attack their neighbors in revenge. Nothing of the sort happened, however, nor is it much anticipated. [illegible] is so intense that should an uprising occur, the Italians would be exterminated.

Later—The bodies of the three missing Italians have been found at some distance from town. It is therefore certain that the five men held for the murder of Pixson have all been assassinated.

WASHINGTON, March 13 — Marquis Imperioli, first secretary of the Italian legation, called at the State Department this morning, and directed the attention of the officials to the news from Walsenburg, Colo., of the assassination of four Italians. He asked that the good offices of the State Department be used immediately to prevent the killing of any others of his countrymen.

Acting Secretary of State Uhl, at the instance of the Italian legation in this city, has telegraphed the Governor of Colorado for an explanation of the killing of the Italians at Walsenburg.

NEGROES CAN'T WORK.

And if They Steal They Will be Sent to the Penitentiary--Oh Tempora! Oh Mores!

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 13.—The levee, the scene of yesterday's rioting, presents a peaceful aspect today. Where yesterday crowds of excited workmen armed with all kinds of weapons patrolled the river front, nothing was to be seen but squads of policemen discussing the affair of yesterday and its probable outcome. The police did not wait until actual shooting began before they took action as was the case yesterday morning. Their experience yesterday was one never to be forgotten. Word was sent to all precinct commanders last night to have their force on the front at daylight this morning. Consequently the police were on hand in large numbers to prevent a repetition of yesterday's affair. There was a heavy fog this morning hanging over the river, and the police were under the impression that the rioters would again take advantage of this fact and commit deeds of violence. But this belief did not pan out for the simple reason that not a negro put in an appearance on the levee. Every colored man, whose business calls him to the river front took a day off and very sensibly kept at home. The various agents whom have up to yesterday been working negro screwmen told their men to remain at home until they were sent for. At a meeting, the agents held last night, they decided, in view of the unsettled state of affairs, it would be bad policy to attempt to work their colored labor.

Gov. Foster received a number of ship agents and reiterated his assertion that he would maintain peace and quiet at all hazards. He, however, advised the agents not to attempt to work their colored laborers, believing that the negroes kept off the scene for 24 hours, the fighting spirit of the rioters would die of inanimation. The Governor also received information that the military were many of them at their armories and could be moved in a moment's notice. Gov. Foster said that he did not anticipate any more trouble.

WASHINGTON, March 13 — Weather indications for North Carolina: Showers, west winds, and decidedly colder Thursday night.

WHISKEY IS A WINNER.

The Power of the Big Trust Defies and Prevents Investigation.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 13.—In the State Senate today Senator Solomon's whiskey trust resolution came up as a special order. The resolution recites that the whiskey trust is conducted contrary to the laws of the State, and that it was so decided by the State courts. The resolution also provided that attention to the Senate be called [illegible] Circuit court at Chicago, that court being at present conducting the business of the trust through a receiver. Senator Solomon spoke at some length, giving the history of the whiskey trust cases in both the State and U. S. courts. Senator Berry replied, it was not proper for the legislature to attack the judiciary of the State. The resolution was defeated, 13 to 29.

TAYLOR, THE DEFAULTER,

Reported as Having Been Arrested--But Nothing Definite Known.

CHICAGO, March 13.—Officials of the Pinkerton detective agency have declared today that they have received no information from their men regarding the reported arrest in Mexico of W. W. Taylor, the missing ex-treasurer who supposed to have sailed from Havana, Cuba, for Vera Cruz, and that the detectives believed they were close on his tracks. The Pinkerton people admitted that the Associated Press dispatches telling of the capture gave the correct alliases of the detectives who are after the man, and it was apparent the officials believed the story.

PIERRE, S. D., March 13.—Governor Sheldon admits that he would not be surprised to see W. W. Taylor return to Pierre soon. The Governor declines, however, to give anything definite. Other State officers give credence to the report of Taylor's capture but know nothing definite.

Pretty Near a Bad Collision.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 13.—The north-bound passenger train from Charleston to Florence on the northwestern railroad had a head-end collision with a freight train at Bonneaus. The passenger engine and several freight cars were badly wrecked. The fireman of the passenger engine was badly cut and the express messenger knocked down and bruised. None of the passengers were injured. The train proceeded after a short delay.

A Supposed Dead Man Found.

PETERSBURG, Va., Mar. 13.—Jesse M. Newcombe, the grocery merchant of this city, who was supposed to have fallen overboard from a Bay line steamer, enroute from Baltimore to Norfolk, on Sept. 12, 1894, and whose family has since mourned him as dead, was found today at the home of his brother, in Greensboro, N. C. He is reported to be a mental wreck.

A Tug Boat Sunk and the Captain Drowned.

NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—The tugboat N. B. Starbuck, Capt. Brandow, was sunk off Pier 17, East river, at 10.45 a. m. by the steamship Seneca, of the Ward line. The captain and crew of five men were thrown into the river and had to swim for their lives. All were picked up by surrounding tugs, but Capt. Brandow's condition was so serious that all efforts to resuscitate him were futile and he died at the barge office. The Starbuck was passing a line to the Seneca at the time of the accident.

DOVER, DEL., Mar. 13.—Five ballots were taken today for a U. S. senator without result. Each ballot was as follows: Higgins, 8; Addicks, 6; Massey, 4; Wolcott, 6; Tunnel, 4. Seventy-five ballots have thus far been taken.

A GREAT BIG TIME.

Chattanooga Getting Ready for the Big Event of Its History.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 13.—Gen. J. S. Fullerton and Gen. A. P. Stewart, of the national commission of Chickamauga Park, addressed an enthusiastic meeting of citizens at the chamber of commerce this morning, about the necessary preparations for the dedicatory [illegible]. Gen. Fullerton stated that not less than one hundred thousand visitors would be here. President Cleveland is coming unless some extraordinary incident keeps him in Washington. Vice-President Stevenson and all the members of the cabinet are coming, as well as officials of the army and navy. The governors of nearly all the states and their staffs have notified the commissioners that they are coming. The weather at the season the dedication is to occur, has according to statistics, nearly always been free from rain.

Chattanooga will begin at once to make preparations on a most extensive scale, and will take care of everybody. The railroads will make a one cent a mile rate.

THE DREAD HYDROPHOBIA

Has Three Victims in Two Little Brothers and a Comrade--Who Were Bitten by a Mad Dog.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Three boys suffering from hydrophobia, one of whom was tied to a car seat, were passengers on the Pennsylvania railroad's Florida express, which passed through this city at noon, on their way to the Pasteur institute in New York. The unfortunates are: Willie Davis, aged 9 years; his brother, John Davis, aged 5 years, and Willie Anderson, aged 6 years, all three of whom reside in McClenny, Baker county, Fla., and were bitten by a mad dog on March 4. The boys were in charge of Dr. Taylor, a prominent physician from Jacksonville, who told a reporter that the cases were the worst he had ever met with in his practice. The disease has made more progress in the case of Johnnie Davis than any of the others, and he has every symptom of hydrophobia. He was tied down to his seat by means of ropes as he snaps at the doctors and all others who approach him.

A Morsel For the "Foadys" and Parvenues.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Mrs. Wm K. Vanderbilt and her daughter Consuelo, sailed for Liverpool today on the White Star liner, Teutonic.

The booking was made at the pier and in a name other than her own.

She will return, it is said, in the early summer for the season at Newport.

The Vanderbilts took five maids and one man servant, and had over half a hundred pieces of luggage.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 13.—The Old Midway church in Liberty county, the most ancient house of worship in the South, having been built in 1752, is the scene today of the 103rd annual re-union of the Midway Society, an organization whose mission it is to perpetuate the historical associations of the venerable structure. Negroes now own the building.

FT. WORTH, Texas, March 13.—The Texas semi-Centennial Exposition yesterday elected the following officers:

President, H. C. Holloway; Vice-President, Helen R. Williams; Director General, B. B. Paddock; Secretary, Glen Walker; Treasurer, J. W. Spencer.

TRENTON, N. J., March 13.—The Republican assemblymen in conference this morning decided by a vote of 38 to 12 to pass the elective judiciary bill over the governor's veto.

THE INCOME TAX.

The Momentous Effort of Men of Money-s To Avoid Bearing Their Share of Government Expenses.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—There was a crowd that filled the Supreme court to its utmost capacity to-day to hear Mr. Joseph H. Choate make the closing argument against the income tax law, and for, even people waiting to secure admission. No case before the court for several years past has excited so much interest as this to test the validity of the new tax. It is not expected that the court will give its decision before next month.

Mr. Choate's argument was largely technical and legal, and he soon betrayed the fact that he had concluded his more general remarks yesterday and indicated that with his introduction disposed of, he would thenceforth confine himself to the constitution and the presentation of the legal points.

Mr. Choate contended that an exchange for the surrender by the States of the power to collect duties, imposts and excises, the general government had necessarily conceded the protection of all men in their equality before the law, and the rule of uniformity must be observed. Furthermore, he asserted that this rule had been observed without exception by Congress in all tariff acts.

Mr. Justice White here asked if the observance of this rule would not destroy all specific duties.

Mr. Choate thought not, and he also dissented from a suggestion that a difference was made in taxing men of different degrees of wealth. There had never been a personal distinction in the tariff acts.

It was 3 o'clock when Mr. Choate, after having spoken three hours today and forty minutes yesterday, reached his peroration. He had, he said, felt a responsibility in this case such as he had never felt in any other case and never expected to feel again, and he did not believe that any member of the court had ever sat in a case or that any of them would ever live long enough to hear a case of more vital consequence to the people of this country. The question involved, was whether we could rely upon the guaranty given us by the fathers in the constitution, and under which the nation had so far in its history prospered. If it was true, as had been asserted, that a decision adverse to the law was liable to cause an army of seventy millions to march this way, "to see about it," then it was all the more important to the future welfare of the country that the court should see if it has the power to decide such questions, and if it finds that it has, that it should exercise it to put a stop to such legislation.

An Escaped Lunatic Captured.

HAWESVILLE, Ky., March 13.—Ed Pulliam, the escaped lunatic murderer of Rev. Burgess Swope, arrived at the home of his father, Thomas Pulliam, at Batesville, last night, in the midst of a pouring rain. His horse was so exhausted that it will die, as he had been riding it for almost a week without giving it food. Today a posse of citizens and officers surrounded the house and he was captured, bound hand and foot and brought to this city.

Bank Book-keeper's Suicide.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 13.—A Burwell Symmers, aged 26, bookkeeper for the Carolina National bank, shot himself through the heart at 2:45 p. m., in a room in the rear of the bank building. His accounts were perfectly straight. There was some doubt as to whether the killing was suicide or accidental, and the verdict of the coroner's jury was a straddle between the two.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1895.

But few State Legislatures are called upon to face and settle great questions of State policy. Nine Legislatures out of ten in this, and all other States, meet and simply do routine work, pass local and private bills, and enact general statutes of only a minor or secondary nature. This General Assembly was elected on great issues, thoroughly discussed from the mountains to the sea. The people had rebelled against the management and rule of the Democratic party, and against conditions that had been growing from bad to worse for a number of years under the rule of that party. It has been twenty years since any General Assembly has been elected by a great revolution of public sentiment, and charged with enacting certain great and radical reforms. Sixty-four days ago the General Assembly, with these great and grave questions to settle, met and began to labor. Among those constituting the majority and charged with the responsibility of legislation, there were but few who have, in the past, been prominent in legislative councils. Over nine-tenths of the body were men who were a part of the plain and solid yeomanry of the State. They knew the wrongs that were to be corrected; they knew the reforms that the people demanded; but they had to undertake the task themselves, having but little legislative experience, while they were opposed by men of the minority who were skilled in legislative cunning and device.

The General Assembly closed last night after staying in session three days done without compensation. The record has been made. There are many things left undone that ought to have been done; there are no doubt things done that should have been left undone, as is the case of every General Assembly. But upon the whole the record is remarkable for the immense amount of labor done, for the wisdom, and for the broad patriotism and progressive conservatism shown.

The election law is a high tribute to the spirit of fairness and patriotism which prompted the body, and stands out in bold relief and striking contrast to the partisan, unjust and discriminating laws by which the Democratic party for years has disfranchised the voters and perverted the will of the people. Under the law, which this General Assembly enacted, the rights of all parties and individuals will be equally respected and guarded, and every Democrat in the State, whether he will admit it or not, knows that under it that there can be and will be a fairer expression of the will of the people than under any law that has ever been on our statute books.

The county government bill is another high tribute to the patriotism and honesty of this Legislature. We do not think that it is the best bill that could have been drawn, but it is the best compromise bill representing the diversion of opinion of representatives from various sections of the State that could be passed, and all fair-minded men must admit, that it is a vast improvement on the un-democratic, un-representative and tyranical system which the Democratic party has imposed upon the people for more than a score of years. Under the county government system of Democratic machine the people had absolutely no voice in their local affairs. The majority of the people of a county, no matter how large that majority might be, was forced to submit to the rule and dictation of the Democratic machine, even if that party in that county had less than one-tenth of the votes. Probably, against this outrage, more than anything else, the people rebelled. The present county government system enacted by this General Assembly gives the people of every county majority rule and control of their local affairs. It goes further; it gives the minority, minority representation; in short the county government bill is Democratic, but the people had to drive the Democratic party, so called, out of power to enact Democratic legislation.

The above were the great issues in the campaign, and seldom has any legislature had to face and settle greater questions In addition to the above this General Assembly has enacted the six per cent. interest law which the people have demanded for years, and which Democratic legislatures, for an equal length of time have refused to give the people.

Again, they have increased the funds for the public schools of the State from sixteen to eighteen cents on a hundred dollars worth of property, and besides, have enacted a law giving the people, themselves, a right to vote to increase this amount. No General Assembly has ever taken a greater step forward for the advancement and building up of our school system than this one has.

In addition to all this the General Assembly has created a Reformatory for young criminals, an institution which the State has long needed; and which other progressive States have long since established.

In addition to the above, this General Assembly, recognizing the fact that land and wealth producers had paid more than their fair share of taxation, have sought a new source of revenue, by requiring all classes to contribute their fair share of the burden of taxation.

The routine work which usually makes up the whole business of the average legislature has been enacted in addition to the above great measures of progress and reforms.

In conclusion, we wish to call attention to the fact, that notwithstanding the last campaign was one of the bitterest that was ever seen in the State; notwithstanding the fact that there was more excuse for the exhibition of a partisan spirit in this General Assembly than any other for many years, yet this body rose to the highest plane of patriotism, and refused to lay partisan hands on the educational and charitable institutions of the State, and this in the face of the charge that the same institutions in the hands of the Democrats had been used for partisan purposes. No action of this General Assembly has done it more credit than this, and in taking this position we have set a high political standard for all parties in the future. As Lieutenant Governor Doughton said in his very happy speech, in accepting the handsome silver service tendered him by the Senate, "the State institutions of North Carolina have fared well at the hands of this General Assembly." This is indeed a high, but deserved tribute from a political opponent.

Yes, the record of the General Assembly of 1895 is made. It is well and creditably made, and the people will approve the same by a handsome majority at the polls in November, 1896.

MOVING FOR UNITED ACTION.

Representative Populists from various counties in the State, while assembled in caucus this week in this city, took a firm step toward national financial reform, by declaring for themselves and recommending that all Populists also declare, that their sympathy and influence would be extended to any movement looking to a uniting of all the forces of the country favoring the free coinage of silver; and their meaning is to secure the operation of that principle for the United States without regard to the policy of any other country.

We think no more important action has ever been taken in North Carolina than this. The reform of the finances is, indeed, the great issue, and the reform of the finances will never come until steps are taken to restore silver to its place in our money system. Let all who want financial reforms unite to secure the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and when that shall have been done, it will be time enough to press for other features of reform.

The position of Populists is shown by the following preamble and resolutions which were endorsed:

Whereas the American Bimetallic League has inaugurated a movement to solidify into one body or party all individuals favoring bimetalism in the United States, meaning thereby the free coinage of silver, at the raito of 16 to 1, and

Whereas, the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 is a principle demanded by the Populist party, believing that it is absolutely necessary to the solution of the financial difficulties by which the Government and the people of the United States are confronted, and

Whereas a number of the so-called leading Democrats, in meeting assembled in the City of Washington, have also issued a manifesto in which they declare in favor of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and in which they express a belief in the right of the majority of the Democratic party in the United States to control the policy of that party, and in which they request all Democrats favoring the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 to unite for the purpose of securing the enactment of legislation by which such free coinage may be secured in this country, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by Populists, representing various counties in the Legislature in the State of North Carolina, and by other Populists, assembled in meeting in the City of Raleigh, North Carolina, that in our opinion it is impossible for a majority of the members of the Democratic party of the country to procure the enactment of laws looking to the free coinage of silver for the following reasons:

First: A majority of the Democratic party of the country can not control or dictate the policy of the government, because that party is not a majority party in the nation.

Second: The basis apparently assumed by the representatives of the Democratic party issuing the manifesto above referred to, is that a majority of the said party can control the entire party, and this assumption is fallacious, for the reason that in every case in which the question of free coinage has been under consideration by that party, there have been dissensions in its ranks of such extended magnitude as to effectually crush every effort and hope of united effort among them, and there is no reason to believe that these dissensions will not continue.

Resolved, That Populists representing certain counties in North Carolina, and other Populists, in meeting assembled, recommend to the Populist party of North Carolina, that they give their sympathy and influence to the movement looking towards the organization of a distinct, political party which has for its chief issue before the nation the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, but at the same time that the Populists of North Carolina maintain their autonomy and distinct organization as Populists; and that every effort and every compromise that can be made without a surrender of principle, which looks towards the effecting of legislation which will secure the free coinage of silver, be made by the Populists individually and collectively during the next two years.

THE WEEKLY CAUCASIAN.

As was announced yesterday, THE DAILY CAUCASIAN will suspend with this issue.

THE WEEKLY CAUCASIAN will be continued and published in the City of Raleigh. Every possible effort will be made and every energy exerted to make it a valuable exponent of economic questions and living issues. It will seek to expose chicanery, trickery, fraud and falsehood, and in doing this, it will be absolutely fearless and merciless; but withal it will seek to characterize its course with dignity. There will, in all probability, be expressions of opinion which may not meet the approval of everybody; but in statement of facts the WEEKLY CAUCASIAN may be regarded as absolutely reliable. It will always give good reasons for the faith that is in it, for it will advocate no principle or measure which is not based on justice and equity.

Subscribers to THE DAILY CAUCASIAN are invited to transfer their patronage to the Weekly, with the assurance that the best efforts will be exerted to make every issue live and interesting.

The cartoon illustrating Grover Cleveland's observation of the recent eclipse while duck hunting in Eastern Carolina, is presented to the readers of THE CAUCASIAN by the courtesy of the Washington Post—a paper which is quick to see a good point wherever it is, and is otherwise brilliant in every respect.

The Board of Trustees of the University meet today.

Two convicts arrived yesterday from McDowell county.

The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Worth.

It only requires one more stone in place on the monument before the pile is ready for the shaft.

The University base ball team will play several games of ball with Northern teams in Raleigh this spring.

The funeral of Mr. F. H. Olds whose death was announced yesterday will take place from the church of the Sacred Heart this morning.

Mr. R. L. Burkhead, one of the efficient clerks in the State treasury department will step down and out on the 10th of April. Maj. Martin will succeed him.

Squire J. C. Marcom, according to the Evening Visitor is an open aspirarant for the mayorality. His nephew Mr. Milton Marcom, who presides over the destinies of Denton's Cafe is also in the race for the same honor and nothing would be more interesting than a neck and neck race between these two patriotic citizens and popular gentleman.

House Personals.

Mr. Darden desires his people to know that he did not move to exempt his county from the provisions of the amended public school law. He favored the measure.

HONOR TO THE LEGISLATURE.

A Proposition to Endorse Its Work Through Public Meetings.

As a citizen, I propose that all good people in this State meet in their townships and endorse the legislation of our present General Assembly. It has proven itself to be the most patriotic and democratic legislative body that ever convened in this State since "Davy Reid's" legislature, away before the war, which abolished land qualification for free voting.

The people have home rule now, and all the people can vote for all their rulers.

The idea of county governments all over the State by one party only, and that by men two removes from a free ballot box, was revolting; and no wonder people chafed under "ring rule" and "buzzard nest" thralldom.

Formerly, the legislature elected the magistrates, all of one party, and these partisan magistrates elected the county commissioners, all of one party, and we had a one sided and partisan rule all over the State! It is a wonder the people stood it so long!

Old North Carolina at Mecklenburg first declared for Independence. New North Carolina at Raleigh is first to declare for independence and home rule among all her Southern sisters, who for party purposes have had to submit to this "Solid South" idea, so much to their detriment.

North Carolina leads for liberty every time! Political parties can no longer control our county governments, but all the people of all the parties will.

Let us honor and endorse this legislature in public meetings all over the State.

ONE OF THE WEST.

Looking Over the Raleigh Schools.

Mr. M. C. S. Noble, the efficient superintendent of the Wilmington graded schools, is here. Mr. Nobles has made several trips here lately examining the system in vogue in the Raleigh schools. It is his intention to have the same plan introduced in the Wilmington schools next season. Prof. Moses' plan seems to catch every instructor, who comes here and visits the schools.

A Rising Young Republican.

No man in the Republican party enjoys the confidence of the leaders of the organization, both State and National more than Mr. Spencer Blackburn, the Reading Clerk of the Senate. He is the ablest orator of his party in North Carolina, and in a few years he will represent his district in Congress.

Six Per Cent. Interest and Interest They All Want.

Parties who want to borrow money on the P. & L. plan—at six per cent.—will do well to correspond with me. We only make loans in cities or towns. I will be glad to organize a local branch of the old reliable Southern of Knoxville in any town or city in North Carolina. We only lend to members. Any one can become a member. When you borrow you pay monthly—about the same as paying rent—only you are paying for the home every month instead of paying rent.

They Will All Go Home.

The House took a recess till 8 p. m.

Night Session.

The Speaker rapped the House to order and requested the gentleman from Cherokee to take the chair. "I hope the Speaker will send the gentleman from Macon and the gentleman from Northampton to conduct me to the chair." Whereupon Messrs. Peebles and Ray took him by the arms and led him to the Speaker's desk. Several resolutions were sent up to the desk and read by the clerk, and amended. Among the amendments was one "that as pigeons and English sparrows were town birds they be taxed five cents each, while woodpeckers and yellow-hammers being country birds should remain untaxed." The chair would put the bills and call for the ayes and noes and when the vote was loudly no, he would declare the bill carried, amid great laughter. The members were just getting ready to have an uproarious time, when the Speaker announced that the gentleman from Cherokee would be called upon to preside later on. At present there was business before the House. A messenger from the Senate brought in a large bundle of enrolled bills and the Speaker signed them as the clerk read their titles and handed them over to him.

The evening was spent in alternating between ratifying bills and speeches from the gentlemen from Cherokee until Mr. Peebles arose to a

QUESTION OF HIGH PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. Peebles said: I arise to a question of the highest personal privilege. During last night's session of this House, I attempted to leave the hall of the House of Representatives, when I was confronted at the door by a negro (whose name I understand is Eli Stanford) and told by said negro that I could not leave the hall. I asked him by what authority he dared to imprison me in the hall of the House of Representatives. He replied, "by orders of the doorkeeper." I stated to him that there had been no call of the House and that the door-keeper had no right to prevent my leaving the hall. He had hold of the door knob and said I could not go out of the door. I took hold of his hand to release the door knob so as to open the door and go out, when he resisted my efforts to leave the hall by force and violence, and took hold of my person, and for a moment restrained me of my right of free egress from said hall. At this juncture another negro, to me unknown, joined said Eli in his assault on my person. This uncalled for and unjustifiable assault would in all probability have ended in serious results but for the timely assistance of Mr. Lee, of Haywood county. This conduct seems to me to be a direct insult to the House of Representatives and to each member thereof. I have deemed it my duty to lay the facts before this body in order that the House may have an opportunity to take such steps as it may think necessary to protect its honor and dignity.

Mr. Norment hardly knew what action to take in this matter. He would suggest the appointment of a committee to investigate this matter.

Mr. Ray introduced a resolution to have the parties arrested and brought before the house.

A motion was made that the house take a recess of ten minutes.

During the recess Cherokee Campbell was called to the chair and entertained the body in his usual way.

Mr. Winborne took the chair, and a resolution of thanks to Speaker Walser for his able, impartial and dignified ruling as a presiding officer was presented by Mr. Burnham, and after very complimentary remarks the resolution passed the house, Mr. Peebles alone voting no.

Speaker Walser resumed the chair, and a message came from the Senate announcing that that body was ready to adjourn sine die. Mr. Leinback moved that this body do now adjourn sine die. The roll call was called for. When Mr. Ray's name was reached he called up his resolution. Mr. Hileman rose to the point of order that when a vote is being taken on a motion to adjourn sine die no business could be brought be...re the body. At the conclusion of ... call Speaker Walser rose and

When a wintry old age shall tempt us to the banquet of luscious memories, I believe the hours spent here and the duties discharged will refresh the soul as with a heavenly manna and lighten the dark hours of its dissolution.

I now bid you all farewell and declare the House adjourned sine die.

NOTES.

The speaker was busy most of the the morning signing enrolled bills. Many of the members are leaving, and the business of the Assembly is practically over. They have passed the new election law, the six per cent. interest bill, the county government bill, a good road law, the reformatory bill, and they have provided for all the State institutions and increased the public school fund tax, besides turning over to that fund the direct land tax yet unsalled for. They have also voted $10,000 more to the Confederate monument, and increased the appropriation to the State Normal and Industrial school and to the A. & M. College.

This is not such a record as is usually made by "anarchists and conspirators."

CORRECTION.

Perquimans county was not proposed by the member, Mr. Darden, to be excepted from the provisions of the new school bill.

ANOTHER COLORADO ROW

In Which Quiet Reigns—And a Man Is Killed.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., March 13.—The whole Cripple Creek district is excited over a bloody running fight last night between an officer and a number of the miners and former railroad men, in which one man was killed and another badly injured. Constable Frank Luepton had arrested a man named McQuade, of Victor, for participation in the railroad strikes last summer. A number of his companions objected, and in the melee one man, Seth Walston, was shot through the cheek. The officers finally got Walston and McQuade before a justice of the peace, where both were put under two hundred dollar bonds, which they refused to give. Luepton placed his prisoners on a train to bring them to Cripple Creek, but friends of the men covered the engineer with guns, preventing the train's departure. When the constable approached the locomotive, the engineer jumped off and ran. Finally the train was started, but after going a mile, was stopped ostensibly to let off passengers. Patrick Looney and a couple of other men attempted to enter the rear car where Luepton and his officers were. Luepton grappled with Looney and as he was losing ground, pulled a gun and fired. Looney was instantly killed. The prisoners were finally landed in jail.

PEOPLE—COMING AND GOING.

Miss Cade, of Franklinton, is in the city, the guest of Rev. A. M. Simms.

Mr. W. D. Baily, Jr., one of the prominent young business men of Winston, is in town.

Mr. S. H. Campbell, of this city, has gone to Augusta, Ga., on a visit to relatives and friends.

Hon. J. S. Carr, of Durham, is in town as are also S. T. Morgan, L. A. Carr, G. W. Watts, E. C. Hackney and several others.

Senator Marion Butler and Mrs. Butler will go to Sampson county on Friday of this week, where they will spend about two months on their farm. Senator Butler's especial object in going to the country is to secure quiet for a while and a much needed rest.

IN THE CITY

The Board of Trustees of the University meet today.

Two convicts arrived yesterday from McDowell county.

The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Worth.

The University base ball team will play several games of ball with Northern teams in Raleigh this spring.

The funeral of Mr. F. H. Olds whose death was announced yesterday will take place from the church of the Sacred Heart this morning.

Mr. R. L. Burkhead, one of the efficient clerks in the State treasury department will step down and out on the 10th of April. Maj. Martin will succeed him.

Squire J. C. Marcom, according to the Evening Visitor is an open aspirarant for the mayorality. His nephew Mr. Milton Marcom, who presides over the destinies of Denton's Cafe is also in the race for the same honor and nothing would be more interesting than a neck and neck race between these two patriotic citizens and popular gentleman.

House Personals.

Mr. Darden desires his people to know that he did not move to exempt his county from the provisions of the amended public school law. He favored the measure.

Mr. A. J. Moye, the door-keeper of the House imforms THE CAUCASIAN, that the negro Eli Stanford whom Capt. Peebles charges with assaulting him in the House, was not in his employment and that Mr. Clifton told him that he was a Democratic negro.

HONOR TO THE LEGISLATURE.

A Proposition to Endorse Its Work Through Public Meetings.

As a citizen, I propose that all good people in this State meet in their townships and endorse the legislation of our present General Assembly. It has proven itself to be the most patriotic and democratic legislative body that ever convened in this State since "Davy Reid's" legislature, away before the war, which abolished land qualification for free voting.

The people have home rule now, and all the people can vote for all their rulers.

The idea of county governments all over the State by one party only, and that by men two removes from a free ballot box, was revolting; and no wonder people chafed under "ring rule" and "buzzard nest" thralldom.

Formerly, the legislature elected the magistrates, all of one party, and these partisan magistrates elected the county commissioners, all of one party, and we had a one sided and partisan rule all over the State! It is a wonder the people stood it so long!

Old North Carolina at Mecklenburg first declared for Independence. New North Carolina at Raleigh is first to declare for independence and home rule among all her Southern sisters, who for party purposes have had to submit to this "Solid South" idea, so much to their detriment.

North Carolina leads for liberty every time! Political parties can no longer control our county governments, but all the people of all the parties will.

Let us honor and endorse this legislature in public meetings all over the State.

ONE OF THE WEST.

Looking Over the Raleigh Schools.

Mr. M. C. S. Noble, the efficient superintendent of the Wilmington graded schools, is here. Mr. Nobles has made several trips here lately examining the system in vogue in the Raleigh schools. It is his intention to have the same plan introduced in the Wilmington schools next season. Prof. Moses' plan seems to catch every instructor, who comes here and visits the schools.

A Rising Young Republican.

No man in the Republican party enjoys the confidence of the leaders of the organization, both State and National more than Mr. Spencer Blackburn, the Reading Clerk of the Senate. He is the ablest orator of his party in North Carolina, and in a few years he will represent his district in Congress.

Six Per Cent. Interest and Interest They All Want.

Parties who want to borrow money on the P. & L. plan—at six per cent.—will do well to correspond with me. We only make loans in cities or towns. I will be glad to organize a local branch of the old reliable Southern of Knoxville in any town or city in North Carolina. We only lend to members. Any one can become a member. When you borrow you pay monthly—about the same as paying rent—only you are paying for the home every month instead of paying rent.

[illegible]se of Rep- [illegible] Speaker Walser rose and

They Will All Go Home.

The House took a recess till 8 p. m.

Night Session.

The Speaker rapped the House to order and requested the gentleman from Cherokee to take the chair. "I hope the Speaker will send the gentleman from Macon and the gentleman from Northampton to conduct me to the chair." Whereupon Messrs. Peebles and Ray took him by the arms and led him to the Speaker's desk. Several resolutions were sent up to the desk and read by the clerk, and amended. Among the amendments was one "that as pigeons and English sparrows were town birds they be taxed five cents each, while woodpeckers and yellow-hammers being country birds should remain untaxed." The chair would put the bills and call for the ayes and noes and when the vote was loudly no, he would declare the bill carried, amid great laughter. The members were just getting ready to have an uproarious time, when the Speaker announced that the gentleman from Cherokee would be called upon to preside later on. At present there was business before the House. A messenger from the Senate brought in a large bundle of enrolled bills and the Speaker signed them as the clerk read their titles and handed them over to him.

The evening was spent in alternating between ratifying bills and speeches from the gentlemen from Cherokee until Mr. Peebles arose to a

QUESTION OF HIGH PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. Peebles said: I arise to a question of the highest personal privilege. During last night's session of this House, I attempted to leave the hall of the House of Representatives, when I was confronted at the door by a negro (whose name I understand is Eli Stanford) and told by said negro that I could not leave the hall. I asked him by what authority he dared to imprison me in the hall of the House of Representatives. He replied, "by orders of the doorkeeper." I stated to him that there had been no call of the House and that the door-keeper had no right to prevent my leaving the hall. He had hold of the door knob and said I could not go out of the door. I took hold of his hand to release the door knob so as to open the door and go out, when he resisted my efforts to leave the hall by force and violence, and took hold of my person, and for a moment restrained me of my right of free egress from said hall. At this juncture another negro, to me unknown, joined said Eli in his assault on my person. This uncalled for and unjustifiable assault would in all probability have ended in serious results but for the timely assistance of Mr. Lee, of Haywood county. This conduct seems to me to be a direct insult to the House of Representatives and to each member thereof. I have deemed it my duty to lay the facts before this body in order that the House may have an opportunity to take such steps as it may think necessary to protect its honor and dignity.

Mr. Norment hardly knew what action to take in this matter. He would suggest the appointment of a committee to investigate this matter.

Mr. Ray introduced a resolution to have the parties arrested and brought before the house.

A motion was made that the house take a recess of ten minutes.

During the recess Cherokee Campbell was called to the chair and entertained the body in his usual way.

Mr. Winborne took the chair, and a resolution of thanks to Speaker Walser for his able, impartial and dignified ruling as a presiding officer was presented by Mr. Burnham, and after very complimentary remarks the resolution passed the house, Mr Peebles alone voting no.

Speaker Walser resumed the chair, and a message came from the Senate announcing that that body was ready to adjourn sine die. Mr. Leinback moved that this body do now adjourn sine die. The roll call was called for. When Mr. Ray's name was reached he called up his resolution. Mr. Hileman rose to the point of order that when a vote is being taken on a motion to adjourn sine die no business could be brought before the body. At the conclusion of the roll call Speaker Walser rose and

When a wintry old age shall tempt us to the banquet of luscious memories, I believe the hours spent here and the duties discharged will refresh the soul as with a heavenly manna and lighten the dark hours of its dissolution.

I now bid you all farewell and declare the House adjourned sine die.

People With Horizontal Heads

Level-headed folks have long since learned that credit is a very expensive luxury. Stores don't grow big by accident. Our's is one of the largest in the State. If we had not given the people a fair equivolent for their money, our store would never have been so large. If buying and selling as we do, for the SPOT CASH, we could not offer you greater values in every department than the accommodating credit man, we would blush to quote you prices. We keep no books, and as a consequence have no book-keeper, no collector, no lawyer to pay, and yet our business is increasing every day. Our customers merit the compliment as well as ourselves, and any one has but to be shown through each department to be convinced of the latest styles, best quality and lowest prices.

Our specialties are:
Dress Goods, Silks, Trimmings, etc.
Laces, Edgings, Embroideries, etc.
Mermaid Silk Waist, in all colors and figures.
Domestics, White Goods, etc.
Men's and Boy's Furnishings and Clothing.
Men's, Ladies', Misses' and Children's Shoes, in all of the latest styles.
House Furnishings, Trunks, Crockery, Lamps, and in fact everything kept in a large Department Store.

Respectfully,
D. T. SWINDELL,
206 Fayetteville Street.
